“ Sorry for your lost there is something I would like to share with you . About a promise that Jehovah our God has promise us. In regards to what grand things the future holds for us. Imagine a place where there will be no more painn, crying, sarrow ,death . This is the promise that our God will give us accroding to his word the bible . At Paslm 37:29 these things will be of the past.

“ My sympathy to my uncles and aunts for the loss of Leo. Even though I haven't seen him in 35 plus yrs. I still remember the times we played catch together in our backyard. Also the times we would go to my Uncle Joe and Aunt Marcie's home. He was thought of often and will be missed dearly by his family. I am sure.

“ My deepest sympathies to the Schultz family. May your loving memories comfort you, even though at times it may be hard to think of never again being able to talk to, laugh with, or share those memories with your loved one. That pain doesn't always go away by being told that your loved one is up in heaven, because naturally we want them to be with us. The Bible though holds out a much different hope, the scriptures indicate that it is possible to be reunited with our loved one in the near future right here on earth under peaceful conditions at Revelation 21:4 tells us that soon God is going to wipe every tear from our eyes, death will be no more, nor pain anymore. Jesus promised that millions now dead will live again on this earth and have the prospect of remaining on it forever under peaceful, paradisaic conditions. (John 3:16; 17:3; Psalms 37:29;) May this wonderful hope for the Bible bring you comfort and hope.
Sincerely, Glenda
