“ Phil has been such a great friend to my mom and step dad for many years. He was so kind to let my mom host my high school graduation party at his house and years later, my husband and I bought a house in his neighborhood. We are going to miss waving to him on our nightly bike rides and my kids are really going to miss seeing their grandma and grandpa at his house many summer nights. He would always save his Halloween candy for them, something so small made them so excited. We will also miss him joining our family vacations to Florida to hang with grandma and grandpa. “ We lost a good one, RIP Phil. We met through our work connections and throughout the years when we'd reconnect, it was always easy to share some laughs with a dose of his sarcasm, and of course, a beer. He will be missed and many heartfelt condolences to his family and friends.

“ I will always remember the silly phone calls that made no sense, but meant everything. The endless to do lists got done. Mine did with the help of Rick and Lisa. The fun times at Rosie's. Drinking, dancing, playing Keno and the closing song "Sweet Caroline" bump bump bump. Life was never boring with you in it. You brought conversation and laughter into ordinary moments that I will hold onto forever. You will be missed.

“ Far too soon to be leaving a life behind. Phil was part of a troop of friends we ran with through the 80's, then we all married and started families in the 90's, still in touch until time separated us. Phil lived life to the fullest back then and I suspect he was well accompanied by family and friends after we lost touch.

I know he'll be missed, may you rest in peace my friend.

“ Rest in peace Uncle Phil! A fond memory that I have of Uncle Phil was when my family and I were visiting his house on Eureka road and he was so excited because he thought that he had recorded a advanced copy of Beauty and the Beast which was a very popular movie at the time. He was so excited to show me he put the tape in the VCR and it turned out to be a live-action TV show that was on at the time. I felt so bad having to tell him but it was the wrong one he was so upset with himself but it just showed how kind and caring he was towards his family. We love you Uncle Phil you will be missed!

“ Uncle Phil was my godfather. He was an open book, spoke his mind and was always curious about what I thought or had going on in my life. He loved the outdoors, his friends and his family and I will miss him. □
